STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
ex rel. Xavier Becerra,
Attorney General of the State of California

Case No. 2:20-cv-10900

Plaintiffs,

Complaint for Damages, Civil Penalties, and Injunctive Relief
Demand for Jury Trial

v.

Toyo Denso Co., Ltd. and Weastec, Inc.

Defendants.

The State of California, through Xavier Becerra, the Attorney General, in his official capacity as the chief law enforcement officer of the State of California files this complaint against Toyo Denso Co., Ltd. And Weastec, Inc. (collectively, Defendants or "Toyo Denso"), and alleges:

NATURE OF ACTION

1. Defendants and their co-conspirators conspired to suppress and eliminate competition by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the price of ignition Coils and power window switches (hereinafter referred to as “Ignition Coils” and “Power Window Switches”). These price-fixed parts were installed in automobiles purchased by Plaintiffs.

2. For the duration of the Ignition Coils conspiracy, from at least as early as January 2000 until at least February 2010, the exact dates being unknown to Plaintiffs, Defendants’ actions resulted in fixing, stabilizing, and maintaining prices for Ignition Coils. Due to Defendants’ unlawful conduct, the State of California and its state agencies were deprived of open and fair competition when purchasing such parts and paid higher-than-competitive prices for both the parts themselves and for automobiles in which they were installed.
3. For the duration of the Power Window Switches conspiracy, from in or about June 2003 and continuing until at least February 2013, the exact dates being unknown to Plaintiffs, Defendants’ actions resulted in fixing, stabilizing, and maintaining prices for Power Window Switches. Due to Defendants’ unlawful conduct, the State of California and its state agencies were deprived of open and fair competition when purchasing such parts and paid higher-than-competitive prices for both the parts themselves and for automobiles in which they were installed
4. Competition authorities in the United States, the European Union, and Japan have been investigating a number of conspiracies involving automotive parts since at least February 2010.
5. Defendants and their co-conspirators affected millions of dollars of commerce. The State of California, California businesses, and consumers suffered antitrust injury to their business or property due to Defendants’ conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain prices and artificially inflate prices for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches during the duration of the conspiracies.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6. Plaintiffs bring this action to secure damages, permanent injunctive relief, civil penalties, and reasonable attorneys' fees pursuant to Section 4 (15 U.S.C. § 15) and Section 16 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. §26) for violations of Section 1 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. §1), as well as sections 16720 and 17200 et seq. of the California Business and Professions Code.
7. This Court has original jurisdiction over the subject matter of all causes of action alleged in this Complaint pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1337. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over the state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367 because Plaintiffs' state law claims are so related to the federal question claims that they form part of the same case or controversy that would ordinarily be tried in one judicial proceeding.
8. Venue is proper in the United States District Court, Eastern District of Michigan, pursuant to Section 12 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. § 22), and 28 U.S.C. § 1391. Defendants transact business in the United States, including in this district, committed an illegal act, or are found in this district, and a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims arose in this district.

PARTIES

Defendants

12. Toyo Denso Co. Ltd. Is a Japanese Corporation with its principal place of business in Tokyo Japan. Weastec Inc. is an Ohio Corporation with its principal place of business in Hillsboro, Ohio. Weastec Inc. is an subsidiary of and wholly owned and/or controlled by its parent, Toyo Denso Co. Ltd.

Co-Conspirators and Agents

13. Various persons, partnerships, sole proprietors, firms, corporations and individuals not named as defendants in this lawsuit, the identities of which are presently unknown, have participated as co-conspirators with the Defendants in the offenses alleged in this Complaint, and have performed acts and made statements in furtherance of the conspiracy or in furtherance of the anticompetitive conduct.

14. Plaintiffs reserve the right to name some or all of the persons or entities who acted as co-conspirators with Defendants in the alleged offenses as Defendants.
15. Any reference in this Complaint to any act, deed, or transaction by a corporation means that the corporation engaged in the act, deed, or transaction by or through its officers, directors, agents, employees, or representatives while they were actively engaged in the management, direction, control, or transaction of the corporation's business or affairs.
16. Defendants also are liable for acts of companies they acquired through mergers or acquisitions which are done in furtherance of the alleged conspiracy.
17. Defendants named herein acted as the agent or joint venture of or for the other co-conspirators with respect to the acts, violations, and common course of conduct alleged herein.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

18. Defendants engaged in the business of manufacturing and selling Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches to automobile manufacturers for installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States and elsewhere. Ignition Coils are parts of the fuel ignition system of an automobile and release energy suddenly to ignite a fuel mixture. Power Window Switches are automobile switches that raise or lower an automobile's electric windows.
19. During the period of conspiracy, Defendants manufactured Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches: (a) in the United States for installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States, (b) in Japan and elsewhere for export to the United States and installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States, and/or (c) in Japan for installation in vehicles manufactured in Japan for export to and sale in the United States.

20. Automobile manufacturers issue Requests for Quotation (“RFQs”) to automotive parts suppliers on a model-by-model basis when they purchase Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches. Automotive parts suppliers, including Defendants, submit quotations to automobile manufacturers in response to RFQs. The winning bidder supplies parts to the automobile manufacturers for the lifespan of the car model, usually lasting four to six years. The bidding process for a certain car model starts approximately three years prior to the start of production.

21. Defendants have sold Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches to multiple automobile manufacturers which installed them in automobiles made and sold in the United States

Structural Characteristics of the Automotive Parts Market

22. The structural characteristics of the automotive parts market are conducive to a price-fixing agreement, and have made collusion particularly attractive in this market. These characteristics include high barriers to entry and inelastic demand.

23. There are substantial barriers to entry in the Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches market. It would require substantial initial costs associated with manufacturing plants and equipment, energy, transportation, distribution infrastructure, skilled labor, and long standing relationships with customers. These costs are considered as high barriers to entry, and preclude or make entry into the markets for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches more difficult.

24. Due to high barriers to entry, incumbent firms have incentive to collude and keep supra-competitive prices. High barriers to entry also facilitate the maintenance of collusion since incumbents do not face the risk of new entrants engaging in price competition.

25. “Elasticity” is a term used in economics to describe the sensitivity of supply and demand to changes in the price. Demand for a certain product is “inelastic” when an increase in price of the product creates only a small change in the quantity demanded of that product. Consumers of the product whose demand is inelastic would continue to buy it despite a price increase.
26. When customers are not sensitive to a price increase, a cartel can increase price and maintain relatively level sales volume. Thus, it could continue to keep supra-competitive prices with relatively stable demand and increase profit.

Government Investigations

27. The United States Department of Justice (“Department of Justice”), as well as authorities in the European Union and Japan, started global, industry-wide investigations into possible violations of the antitrust laws in the auto parts industry in 2010. The complete scope of the investigations is unknown.
28. The Department of Justice publicly announced aspects of the investigation when FBI agents raided the offices and factories of suspected companies. Since the raids, the investigation has continued to this date. So far 46 companies have been convicted and collective fines total more than $2.9 billion.
29. In furtherance of the conspiracies, Defendants engaged in discussions and attended meetings with co-conspirators involved in the manufacture and sale of Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches. During such meetings, Defendants and co-conspirators agreed to (a) allocate the supply of Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches sold to automobile manufactures; (b) rig bids quoted to automobile manufacturers for such parts; and (c) fix, stabilize, and maintain their prices.

Trade and Commerce

30. During the period of conspiracies, Defendants and their co-conspirators sold Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere in a continuous and uninterrupted flow of interstate and foreign trade and commerce. In addition, equipment and supplies necessary to the production and distribution of such parts sold by Defendants and their co-conspirators, as well as payments for those sold by Defendants and their co-conspirators, traveled in interstate and foreign trade and commerce.
31. Plaintiffs purchased a substantial volume of automobiles and trucks. A substantial volume of vehicles containing Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches manufactured by Defendants and their co-conspirators were sold to California state agencies, California businesses, and California consumers. American Honda Motor, Inc. was among the California companies affected by the bid-rigging activity.
32. The anticompetitive act was intentionally directed at the United States market for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches because Defendants and their co-conspirators intentionally sold them to an automobile manufacturer that in turn sells automobiles in the United States and in the State of California. The business activities of Defendants and their co-conspirators in connection with the production and sale of Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches that were the subject of this conspiracy were within the flow of, and substantially affected, interstate and foreign trade and commerce.

The Pass-Through of Overcharges to Consumers

33. Defendants' and their co-conspirators' conspiracies to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches at artificial levels resulted in harm to Plaintiffs because it resulted in Plaintiffs paying higher prices for both the parts themselves and the automobiles installed with them than they would have paid in the absence of Defendants' and their co-conspirators' conspiracies. The entire overcharges at issue were passed onto California consumers.

Fraudulent Concealment

34. Throughout the period of conspiracies, Defendants and co-conspirators affirmatively and fraudulently concealed their unlawful conduct from Plaintiffs.

35. Even though Plaintiffs exercised reasonable diligence, they could not discover the violations of law alleged in this Complaint until long after the commencement of their conspiracies.

36. The Department of Justice began an investigation into conspiracies in the auto part industry as early as 2010, but the complete scope of products and companies involved in the conspiracies has not been disclosed to the public yet.

37. Defendants and their co-conspirators successfully and affirmatively concealed the nature of their conspiracies and unlawful conduct in furtherance of the conspiracies in at least the following respects:

- a. By agreeing among themselves to meet at locations where the conspiracies were less likely to be detected;
- b. By agreeing among themselves to engage in illegal bid-rigging and price-fixing conspiracies, which is by its nature self-concealing; and

- c. By agreeing among themselves to keep the existence of the conspiracies secret, including the usage of secret code names.

38. Defendants' and their co-conspirators' effective, affirmative, and fraudulent concealment effectively prevented timely detection by Plaintiffs, and was a substantial factor in causing Plaintiffs' harm.

Injury

39. But for Defendants' and their co-conspirators' anticompetitive acts, Plaintiffs would have been able to purchase automobiles that incorporated price-fixed parts at lower prices or at prices that were determined by free and open competition.

40. Defendants' and their co-conspirators' unlawful activities took place within interstate and foreign trade and commerce, and had a direct, substantial, and reasonably foreseeable effect on United States and California commerce.

41. As a direct and proximate result of the unlawful conduct alleged in this Complaint, Plaintiffs were not able to purchase Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches and automobiles installed with those price-fixed parts at prices that were determined by free and open competition. Consequently, Plaintiffs have been injured because they paid more than they would have paid in a free and open competitive market. There is a domestic injury that is concrete, quantifiable, and directly traceable back to the Defendants' and their co-conspirators' anticompetitive conduct.

42. As Plaintiffs paid more than what they would have paid absent the conspiracies, Defendants' and their co-conspirators' conduct has resulted in deadweight loss to the economy of the State of California, including reduced output, higher prices, and reduction in consumer welfare.

43. As a direct and proximate result of the unlawful conduct alleged in this Complaint, Defendants' and their co-conspirators benefitted unjustly from the supra-competitive and artificially inflated prices. The unjust financial profits on the sale of price-fixed Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches resulted from their illegal and anticompetitive conduct.

VIOLATIONS ALLEGED

Count I

(Violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act)

44. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference and allege as if fully set forth herein, each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint with the same meaning, force, and effect.

45. Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in conspiracies which unreasonably restrained the trade or commerce among the several States and with foreign nations; thus, their conduct violates Section 1 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. §1). The State of California is entitled to relief resulting from the Defendants' conduct.

46. Defendants and their co-conspirators entered into a continuing agreements, understandings, and conspiracies to raise, fix, maintain, and stabilize the prices charged for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches during the period of conspiracies.

47. Their unlawful conduct in furtherance of the conspiracies was intentionally directed at the United States market for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches and had a substantial and foreseeable effect on interstate commerce by raising and fixing prices of the parts in the United States.

48. The State of California has been injured by being forced to pay artificially inflated prices for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches and automobiles installed with Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches than they would have paid in the absence of the conspiracies.
49. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' conduct, Plaintiffs have been harmed and will continue to be damaged by being forced to pay supra-competitive prices that they would not have paid in the absence of the Defendants' conduct.
50. The alleged contracts, combinations, or conspiracies are a per se violation of the federal antitrust laws.
51. Unless permanently restrained and enjoined, Defendants will continue to unreasonably restrain fair and open competition for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches. Plaintiffs are entitled to an injunction against Defendants to prevent and restrain the violations alleged herein.

Count II

(Violation of the Cartwright Act, Business & Professions Code Section 16720)

52. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference and allege as if fully set forth herein, each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint with the same meaning, force, and effect.

54. Defendants and their co-conspirators violated California Business and Professional Code Section 16720 by forming continuing unlawful trusts and arranging concerted action among Defendants and their co-conspirators in order to fix, raise, maintain and stabilize the prices of Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches.

55. In furtherance of the goals of the conspiracies, Defendants and their co-conspirators conspired to:

- a. fix, raise, maintain, and stabilize the price of Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches;
- b. submit rigged bids for the award of certain Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches contracts to automobile manufacturers; and
- c. allocate markets for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches amongst themselves.

56. The combinations and conspiracies alleged herein had, inter alia, the following effects:

- a. price competition in the sale of Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches has been restrained, suppressed, and/or eliminated in the State of California;
- b. prices for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches sold by Defendants and their co-conspirators have been fixed, raised, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high and non-competitive levels in the State of California; and
- c. Plaintiffs, who purchased automobiles installed with price-fixed Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches, have been deprived of the benefit of free and open competition.

57. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' and their co-conspirators' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs were injured in their business and property because they paid more for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches and automobiles installed with price-fixed parts than they would have paid in the absence of Defendants' and their co-conspirators' unlawful conduct. As a result of Defendants' and their co-conspirators' violation of section 16720 of the California Business and Professions Code, Plaintiffs bring this claim pursuant to section 16750(c) and seek treble damages and the costs of suit, including reasonable attorneys' fees, pursuant to section 16750(a) of the California Business and Professions Code. The California Attorney General is entitled to fines and civil penalties to the maximum extent permitted by law under California Business and Professions Code section 16755. The California Attorney General may also obtain injunctive relief under California Business and Professions Code section 16754.5.

Count III

(Violation of the Unfair Competition Law, Business and Professions Code Section 17200)

58. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference and allege as if fully set forth herein, each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint with the same meaning, force, and effect.
59. Beginning in at least as early as January 2000, and continuing thereafter at least February 2010, Defendants and their co-conspirators committed acts of unfair competition, as defined by sections 17200, et seq., of the California Business and Professions Code.
60. The acts, omissions, misrepresentations, practices, and non-disclosures of Defendants and their co-conspirators, as alleged herein, constituted a common continuing conduct of unfair competition including unfair, unlawful and fraudulent business practices within the meaning of section 17200, et seq., of the California Business and Professions Code, including, but not limited to, the following:

- a. The violations of section 16720, et seq., of the California Business and Professions Code, set forth above, constitute unlawful acts within the meaning of Section 17200 of the California Business and Professions Code;
- b. Defendants' acts, omissions, misrepresentations, practices, and nondisclosures, as described above, whether or not in violation of section 16720, et seq., of the California Business and Professions Code, and whether or not concerted or independent acts, are otherwise unfair, unconscionable, unlawful, or fraudulent;

- d. Defendants' acts and practices are fraudulent or deceptive within the meaning of section 17200 of the California Business and Professions Code; and
- e. Count IV

Unjust Enrichment

63. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference and allege as if fully set forth herein, each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint with the same meaning, force, and effect.
64. Plaintiffs were deprived of economic benefit because Defendants' and their co-conspirators' anticompetitive conduct created supra-competitive and artificially inflated prices for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches.
65. Defendants and their co-conspirators enjoyed unjust financial profits which were derived from unlawful overcharges and monopoly profits. Their financial profits are economically traceable to overpayments for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches by Plaintiffs.
66. The supra-competitive and artificially inflated price for Ignition Coils and Power Window Switches, and unlawful monopoly profits enjoyed by Defendants and their co-conspirators are a direct and proximate result of Defendants' and their co-conspirators' unlawful practices.

67. It would lead to injustice if Defendants and their co-conspirators could retain any of the unlawful financial profits that are a direct and proximate result of their engagement in unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent conduct.

68. As alleged in this Complaint, Defendants and their co-conspirators have been unjustly enriched as a result of their wrongful conduct and by Defendants' and their co-conspirators' unfair competition. Plaintiffs are accordingly entitled to equitable relief including restitution and/or disgorgement of all revenues, earnings, profits, compensation and benefits which may have been obtained by Defendants' and their co-conspirators' engagement in unlawful, unfair, and fraudulent conduct.

69. As alleged in this Complaint, Defendants and their co-conspirators have been unjustly enriched as a result of their unlawful and anticompetitive conduct. Under sections 17203 and 17204 of the California Business and Professions Code, Plaintiffs are accordingly entitled to an injunction against Defendants in order to restrain the violations alleged herein and to equitable relief which includes restitution of all revenues, earnings, profits, compensation and benefits which may have been acquired by means of Defendants' and their co-conspirators' unfair and anticompetitive conduct.
